COVERS

FRONT COVER Giles Allard of Newington, Connecticut captured this nice shot of Bob Lock in his recently restored Command-Aire 5C3 N997E. Bob spent over a decade restoring the derelict airframe, which was originally completed by the Little Rock, Arkansas company on October 15, 1929, only days before the stock market crash that marked the beginning of the Great Depression. See the story beginning on page 6.

BACK COVER: Aviation artist Kendra Helvey of Poplar Grove, Illinois, created this pencil sketch of the Rezich family's various Travel Air biplanes. The D-4000, NC8115 owned by Mike Rezich from 1940-1981 is on the left, There are two Travel Air 2000's, later converted to D-4-D models; NC661H (1937-1941) in the center and NC606K (1950-present) is on the right. See the note in VAA News concerning a limited run of tee-shirts available with this outstanding artwork.
