COVERS

FRONT COVER: One of the rarest Golden Age biplanes still flying, this is the Thunderbird W-14. Now part of the Eagles Mere Museum collection on Merritt Field (4PN7), it is being flown in these photographs by its previous owner, Dennis Trone, who passed away this year. See the article and sidebar starting on page 14. VAA photo by H.G. Frautschy.
