COVERS

FRONT COVER: The Applegates of Queen City, Missouri, use their Waco YKS-6 as the family aerial SUV, happily visiting fly-ins and friends all over the Midwest. Read more about this remarkable aviation family and their favorite cabin biplane in Budd Davisson's article starting on page 6. EAA/Mike Steineke photo.

BACK COVER: The EAA Library's Grospsitch Collection contains a number of photos that show life on the flightline during the early days of Air Mail and National Air Transport (eventually United Air Lines). Many of the shots like this one were taken at Hadley Airport, in New Jersey (outside of New York City). Men hustle the bags of mail into the mail bin of a Douglas M-3 Mailplane as an apparently happy armed guard watches over the operation. Hadley Field was the first terminus for the eastbound Air Mail. EAA Grospsitch Collection, negative number 400.
